IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

THANKSGIVING, DEBUTANTES AND THE 23D'S SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

MATTERS OF INTEREST ABOUT MEN AND WOMEN AND INCIDENTS IN BROOKLYN-WEDDINGS.

PAST AND TO COME-CLUB NOTES. The voice of the turkey is heard in the land, but the voice will soon be stilled, at least a large part of it will, for already extensive preparations have been made for the proper observance of the great National feast day, and that observance, followed out in the custom sanctioned by many years of opular approval, requires that the turkey should popular approval, requires that the turkey should follow the counsel usually given to small boys and be seen but not neard. Brooklyn's charity will not be forgotten this year, any more than it has been in years past, and in all the hospitals, asylums, homes, refreats, prisons and other public and private institutions the day of thanksgiving and the bird without which the day would be only a hollow mockery will play their full part in bringing a ray of sunstaine into clouded lives.

And after Thanksgiving will come the season of dances, and the younger sets on the Hill and the Heights and the Park Slope are in a flutter over the pleasant prospect which a list of the functions already announced discloses. Plans have been made and attangements terfered. aiready announced discloses. Plans have been made and arrangements perfected for an imposing procession of receptions, bails, parties, teas and the manifold forms under which the love of pleasure finds means of expression and gradification. That the season's buds will have things their own way is generally conceded, and that the way will be a delightful one is already assured, for an uncommonly interesting season has been plainly marked out, and there will be no lack of fively young feet and buoyant young hearts to estatah the activity until the sun begins to cilmb northward again and the time for the summer exodus approaches.

The early part of last week was marked by two fashionable weedlings. Miss Caroline Seaman and William A. Read were married on Tuesday at noon by the Rev. Charles H. Hall, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Seaman, on Columbia Heights. This was followed on Wednesday at noon by the This was followed on Wednesday at noon by the marriage of Miss Sarah Brookman and Philip Bradford Niles in Grace Church. The small ante-napital dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Brookman on Monday evening was the first fashionable gathering of the week. The guests included Arthur Lazien Niles and his intended bride, Miss Hotchkisz, of New-York, Miss Harrison, of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. T. Saffern Tailer, Arthur M. Hatch, R. Livingston Heeckman, John H. Prentice, Harry P. Brookman, P. L. Henry, Miss Lacey, Miss Pierrepont, the Misses Niles, Miss Litchfield, and Richard A. Peabody, of New-York.

On Wednesday evening Miss Marietta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison B. Moore, of Pierrepontst., was married to Jesse W. Johnson. It was an ly pretty house welding. Miss Nellie Smith who is engaged to Jonathan Moore, the bride who is engaged to Jonathan Moore, the bride-brother, was maid of honor, and Mr. Moore himse, was best man. The bridesroom is a '32 man o Yale, and the ushers were his classmates, Charle, T. Debevoise, William A. McQuaid, John Walters and Charles Murray. The Rev. R. B. Kelsey per-formed the ceremony, which was followed by a large reception.

Another pretty wedding ceremony united in mar riage John Headden Hailock and Miss Frances game, they will have to do better if they want to equal some of the scores made in other tourna-

Elizabeth M. Dingee, daughter of the late P. M. Dingee, was married to Frank E. Mendes on Wednesday at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bedford, No. 132 Willoughby-ave., by the Rev. Dr. W. C. P. Rhoades.

The principal wedding set down for this week is that of Miss Juliet E. Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander E. Orr, to Albert H. Munsell, of Boston. This will be performed at Christ Church, south Brooklyn, on Wednesday, at 8 p. m. and will be followed by a reception from 8.30 to 19 at the nome of Mr. and Mrs. Orr. No. 102 Remsen-st.

After the weddings comes the fair, or, rather, nightly receptions at the 23d's new armory. It seems as though almost every one in Brooklyn was mixed up in some way with the proceedings in the big red building at Bedford and Atlantic and as a panorama of the brave and beautiful, of art, science, fashion, luck and speculation, ful, of art, science, fashion, luck and speculation, the great drillroom is, to use the words of an enthusiastic Company A man, a "howling success." Last evening New-York's pride, the 7th Regiment came over, and the two crack military organizations of the Greater New-York had an evening to gether which will not be forgotten in a hurry by those who took part in it. The programme for this week is: Monday night, Masonic; Tuesday, wheelmen and oarsmen, Wednesday, the Army and Navy; Thursday, closing the fair, being named Brooklyn Day.

One department at the fair is a revelation to those who have failed to keep up with developments in amateur photography. The room set apart to the photographic exhibits is filled with frames from all over the United States, and many home and for-eign prize-winners are shown. The Brooklyn Acad-eny of Photography and the photographic section of the Brooklyn Institute responded freely to the regiment's invitation to exhibit, the former having 181 frames, by thirty-one members, and the Insti-tute sixty-one frames, by twenty-three members. The judges were Albert J. Le Breton, of Washing-ton, T. J. Burton, of the New-York Society of Amateur Photographers, and Alexander Black, of Brooklyn.

Charles W. Whitney, son of Henry N. Whitney president of the Schermerhorn Bank, lent to the fair some of the uniforms of foreign troops which he collected while abroad last summer, and the have attracted much attention. His collection of uniforms is said to be the finest in the country, and young Mr. Whitney, who is a corporal in the 7th, is an expert in their study. He is a member of the Crescent Athletic and Oxford clubs.

As an echo of the Horse Show it may be noticed and wan ten prizes eight firsts, one second and one third. Other Brooklyn exhibitors, though not so successful, made a creditable display, and are to be congratulated on their efforts.

Cards for the Assemblies went out to the subscribers last week. Dates previously set are not changed, and the dances will be held at the Germania Club on Thursday evenings, December 13, January 17 and February 14. The committee consists of Theodore L. Frothingham, William S. P. Prentice, Clyde Notman and William A. Taylor, and the patronesses are Mrs. Edward H. Litchfield, Mrs. W. S. P. Prentice, Mrs. A. A. Low and Mrs. William A. Taylor.

This week is to be a lively one in the matter of teas and receptions. On Monday afternoon Mrs. Calvin E. Hull has a large reception; on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. John Gibb and her two daughters, Miss Florence and Miss Edith Gibb, will receive at their home. No. 218 Gates-ave., and on Wednesday Mrs. Dwight Richardson, of No. 132 Remsen-st, and her daughter will have a reception. The Misses Louise and Pauline Ludlam Totten will give a tea on Tuesday afternoon at their home, No. 178 Remsen-st. Next week there will be a number of coming-out receptions.

In the club world there has been considerable acconversation at the Hanover Club was the slect Charles D. Gennett by a number of his friends, including Frederick W. The jumps were two at three feet, two at three feet six inches, and two at four feet. The judges were Messrs. Dykman, Fahys and Erhart, and the whip was won by Mr. Potter. Next Wednesday evening, after the music ride, there will be a thread and needle race and a skirt and hat race.

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Riding and Driving Club, Charles S. Rowen, Joseph C. Hendrix, William G. Gilmore, James C. Fitzsimmons, D. P. Morse, James C. Dean, William H. Nichols, William T. Smith, D. Williams, G. Herbert Potter, O. K. Eldridge, Melvin Stevens and Julian D. Fairchild were elected to membership in the club.

The coming entertainment at the Musicians' Club, which has been referred to before, is now slated for 8.15 o'clock next Tuesday evening, and is entitled "A Private Musicale." This will be the first entertainment of the club to which women have been admitted, and admission will be by ticket only for members as well as guests, each member receiving an aliotasent of four tickets.

The Vale-Harvard match at Springfield yesterday attracted, as usual, a large contingent of Brooklyn men, and Captain Henry C. Du Val followed his usual custom, and provided two cars for Excelsior men. They started late on Friday night, and spent the night at Springfield.

Oxford Club men and their friends started in a specially engaged car yesterday morning under the direction of William W. Hensnaw. The party included Mr. Henshaw, William M. Hoagland, Clifford H. Mr. Rowe has been president of the Brooklyn Press Club for the last two years. He will succeed Hubert L. Smith. The sairry of the place is $4,000 at year.

A misstatement was set afloat in regard to the views of Mayor Schieren on the question of having a woman at the head of the Street-Cleaning Bureau. The Mayor did not say that it was his opinion that this would be desirable, but he simply quoted Mayor-elect Strong as saying this. The interest shown by the Women's Health Frotective Association in keeping streets clean and in other municipal reforms is regarded as a healthy sign of the times. But whether a woman at the head of the Bureau would be able to carry on the work as effectively as a man would depends upon the sort of woman.

The name of Benjamin F. Blair, the head of the Republican County Committee, has already been connected with the Mayoralty nomination next year by the politicians, who are inclined to take at its face value the repeated declarations of Mayor Schieren that he desired to serve only one term. Mr. Blair declared himself in a recent speech to be "a self-confessed, double-dyed machine politician." But he also thought the work in should be redeemed from the discredit into which it has fallen, and that civic patriotism was consistent with active work in solities. He also said that the best reforms could be effected from within a party rather than outside of it. In regard to the report that he desires the nomination for Mayor, Mr. Blair says it is utterly unfounded. He believes that Mayor Schieren is e

The Rev. Dr. Marcus L. Taft, head of the Methedist College in Peking, China, has sent a dispatch to his father, James H. Taft, of No. 481 Clinton The reason of his action is the war troubles which imperil the lives of foreigners in the Chinese Empire. Dr. Taff's decision was reached on the advice of the American Consul. He has been engaged in missionary work in China for fifteen years and for the last ten years has been at Peking. He will probably reach Brooklyn at the end of the year. His father is a wealthy business man.

HE PAID THE DEBT AT LAST. Lawrence Doblen, of No. 230 Stockton-st. was fined $19 in the Lee Avenue Police Court last Wednesday for beating one of his children. Deblet did not have the money to pay his fine, and was about to go to jail when a Mrs. King, who was in the courtroom, lent $19 to him. Doblen was re-leased, and outside the building he paid Mrs. King $5 and promised to pay the balance the next day

SHE WILL PUT THE KEY SOMEWHERE ELS In the future Mrs. Ada Moore, of No. 376 South Third-st., will be more careful where she puts the key of her premises when she leaves home. When Mrs. Moore left her home on Friday night she huns the key on a hook in the hallway. She returned after a few minutes' absence and found that her apartments had been entered and jewelry valued at $71 stolen. Detectives traced the stolen property to a pawnshop at No. 705 Grand-st. yesterday. The thief must have been aware of Mrs. Moore's habita, for, after having ransacked the premises, he coolly locked the door and put the key back in its place.

THE JUSTICE LECTURED THE GIRL-who has at least a half score of successful plays to his credit, the latest being "Sowing the Wind" and "A Bunch of Violets," which is now the reigning success upon the stage of the English metropolis. It will be presented in the same manner as during its run of 250 nights at the Empire Theatre. New-York, and sixteen weeks the last summer at the Columbia Theatre, Chicago.

The play at the Amphion Theatre this week will be "The New Boy," a comedy by Arthur Law, With ample opportunities for fun-making James T. Powers is the central figure in the performance. The plece had a long run at the Standard Theatre in New-York, Many novel features contribute to the success of the plece, which is said to leave the beaten path of comedy. With Mr. Powers in the cast will be Frederic Robinson, R. F. gotton, George Backus, W. R. Shirley, Helen Kinnaird, Rachel Booth, Ella Gardiner, Charles Greene, James Cody and others. Justice Goetting, in discharging Emma Schorling the nineteen-year-old diamond thief, in the Lee-ave. Police Court yesterday, lectured the young girl in a fatherly way. The girl was arrested about a month ago while in the act of stealing a diamond scarfpin in the store of Herman Gundlack, of No. 332 Bedford-ave. Three charges of petty largest were brought against the girl, and yesterday, when she was arraigned in court, the Rev. T. Caivin McClelland, pastor of the North Reformed Church, spoke to the judge in the girl's behalf. Neither of the three complainants wished to press the charges against the girl, and after lecturing her Justice against the girl, and after lecturing her Justice Goetting permitted her to go home with her pastor-
